Copyright Assignment

In consideration for the publication in the Journal of Defense Modeling and Simulation: Applications, Methodology, Technology, of the above Contribution, I hereby assign to the Society for Modeling and Simulation International copyright in the Contribution and in any abstract prepared by me to accompany the Contribution for the full legal term of copyright and any renewals thereof throughout the world in all formats, and through any medium of communication.

Conditions of Publication

I warrant the Society for Modeling and Simulation International that the Contribution is my original work, has not been published before, that I have obtained and enclosed all necessary permissions for the reproduction as part of the Contribution of copyright works (including artistic works, e.g., illustrations, photographs, charts, maps, other visual material, etc.) not owned by me, that the Contribution contains no unlawful statements and does not infringe any copyright or other rights of others, and agree to indemnify the Society for Modeling and Simulation International against any claims in respect of the above warranties. I agree to the attached Conditions of Publication form part of this Publishing Agreement.

WHO SHOULD SIGN: This form must be signed by at least one author who is not a U.S. Government employee. If not signed by all authors, the author(s) signing this Agreement represent that they are signing this Agreement as authorized agents for and on behalf of all the authors.

COPYRIGHT: CONDITIONS FOR PUBLICATION FOR COPYRIGHT OWNER

1. It is the policy of the Journal of Defense Modeling and Simulation: Applications, Methodology, Technology (the Journal) to acquire copyright on all contributions. There are two reasons for this:
  - a) ownership of copyright by the Society for Modeling and Simulation International (the Society) ensures maximum protection against infringement of copyright protected material through breach of copyright or piracy anywhere in the world;
  - b) it also ensures that requests by third parties to reprint or reproduce a contribution, or part of it, in any format, are handled efficiently in accordance with the Society's general policy which encourages dissemination of knowledge inside the framework of copyright.
2. In return for the assignment of copyright, the Society undertakes to publish your contribution to the Journal in a timely and professional manner and to license you with the following rights.
3. We hereby grant permission for you to publish the whole or part of your Contribution in a printed work written, edited, or compiled by you, provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal and the Society. We further license you to make photocopies of your article for your own teaching needs, or to supply on an individual basis to research colleagues.
4. We also grant you permission to make available the whole or any part of your Contribution electronically on a secure network at your institution (i.e., one for which access is limited to members of the institution and physical visitors to the institution's site or sites only), provided the usual acknowledgements are given regarding copyright notice and reference to first publication by the Journal and the Society for Modeling and Simulation International.
5. Permission is also granted for you to promote your paper by making the abstract and up to 50% of the published text available electronically on the World Wide Web, provided this is not through a third party commercial provider. Any requests from any third party for use of material from the Journal should be forwarded to the Publisher. If you do make any portion of the published text available electronically on the World Wide Web, the usual acknowledgements must be given regarding copyright notice, reference to its publication in the Journal, and the Society for Modeling and Simulation International. You are encouraged to provide a link to the Modeling and Simulation archive (http://www.scs.org/Digital\_Library.cfm) where free electronic access to your full paper will be offered by the Society for Modeling and Simulation International one year after publication.
  - a) You will be informed, wherever practicable, of all requests, to which we have agreed, to reproduce your contribution, or a substantial part of it, in any other print-on-paper publication or an electronic product such as a CD ROM where your contribution is specifically requested, rather than as part of the Journal as a whole, subject to 6b below. Please keep our mailing list up to date with your institutional or business address changes to facilitate this.
  - b) The Journal may make the necessary arrangements, whether they themselves or through their agents, to place the Contribution in electronic storage so that it may be transmitted to meet legitimate request for access including transmission in a document delivery service, and also the right to mandate reprographic rights organizations (RROs), such as the Copyright Clearance Center in the U.S. and the Copyright Licensing Agency in the U.K., each of which offers centralized arrangements for photocopying and digitization in their respective territories.
7. The Journal may be made available in both print and electronic forms.
8. If the work that forms the basis of this Contribution was done under a contract with a governmental agency or other entity that retains certain rights, this Transfer of Copyright is subject to any rights that such governmental agency or other entity may have acquired.

INCLUSION OF OTHER COPYRIGHT MATERIAL

If you have included copyright material, e.g., illustrations, photographs, tables, charts, maps, company logos/trademarks, or other visual material, etc., and not requested permission for this use under the Fair Dealing provisions of the U.K. Copyright, Patents and Designs Act 1998 or Fair Use Provisions under U.S. law for use of material in review, or other International Copyright Laws which may be in force, please give your reasons for such inclusion of material below.
